I am DEDICATED!

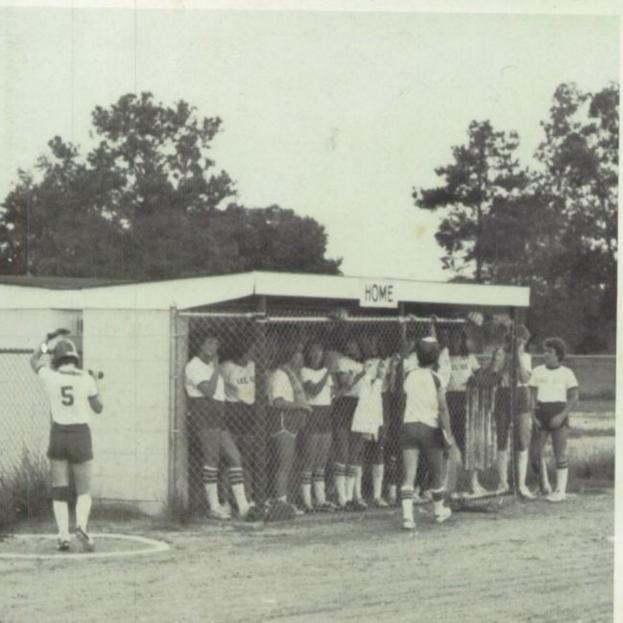

Giving of myself earnestly with enthusiasm and determination,

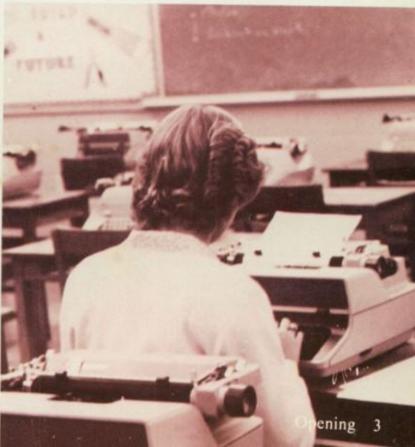

All thoughts on what I am accomplishing and going with force,

Never giving an inch in a backward step, I am marching toward my goals.

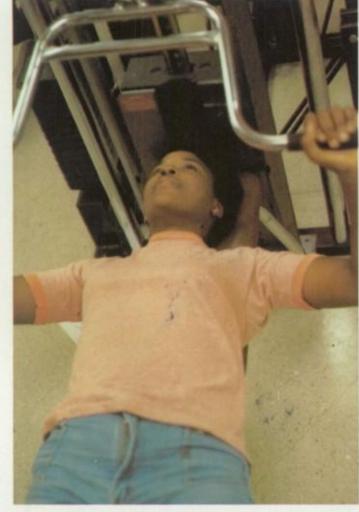

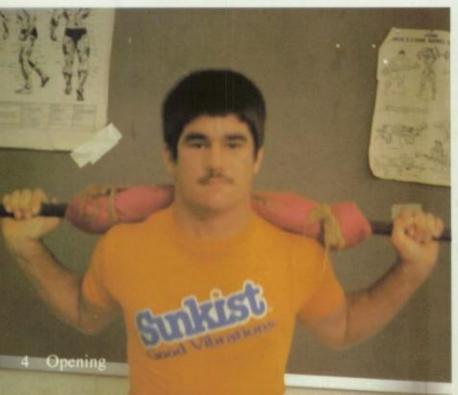

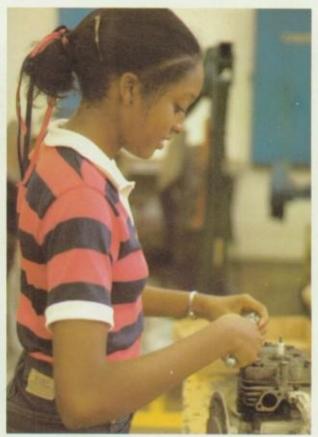

I am EXTRAORDINARY!

A special individual, very remarkable in every way, with many talents,

Endeavoring to use these talents to the best of my known ability,

Showing leadership and encouragement to others, I have outstanding qualities.

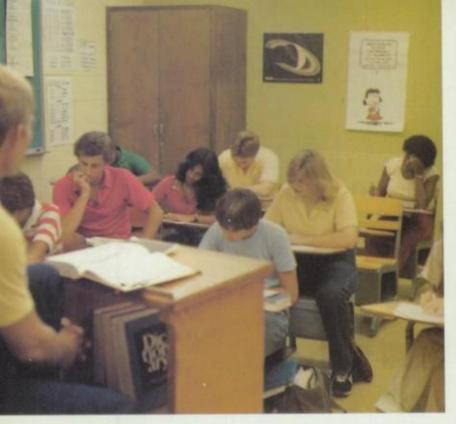

I am TRIUMPHANT!

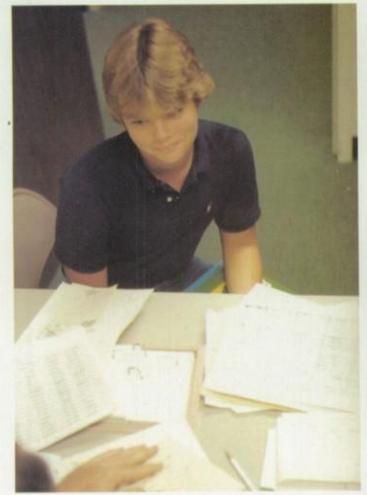

With trumpets blasting, I do my best in everything I undertake,

Facing all situations head on and not looking back on previous events,

Knowing that I succeeded and having the joy in my heart, I am a winner.

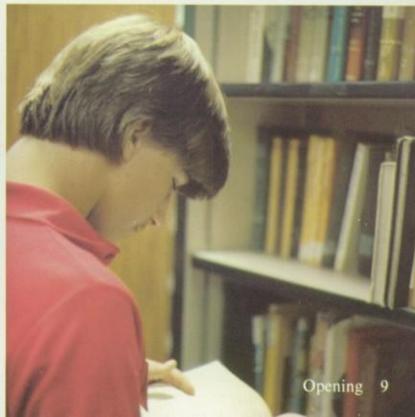

I am INQUISITIVE!

Inquiring to quench the thirst of knowledge by asking many questions,

Learning through curiosity, and using the answers to enrich my life,

Evaluating each problem and finding the best solution, I constantly gain knowledge.

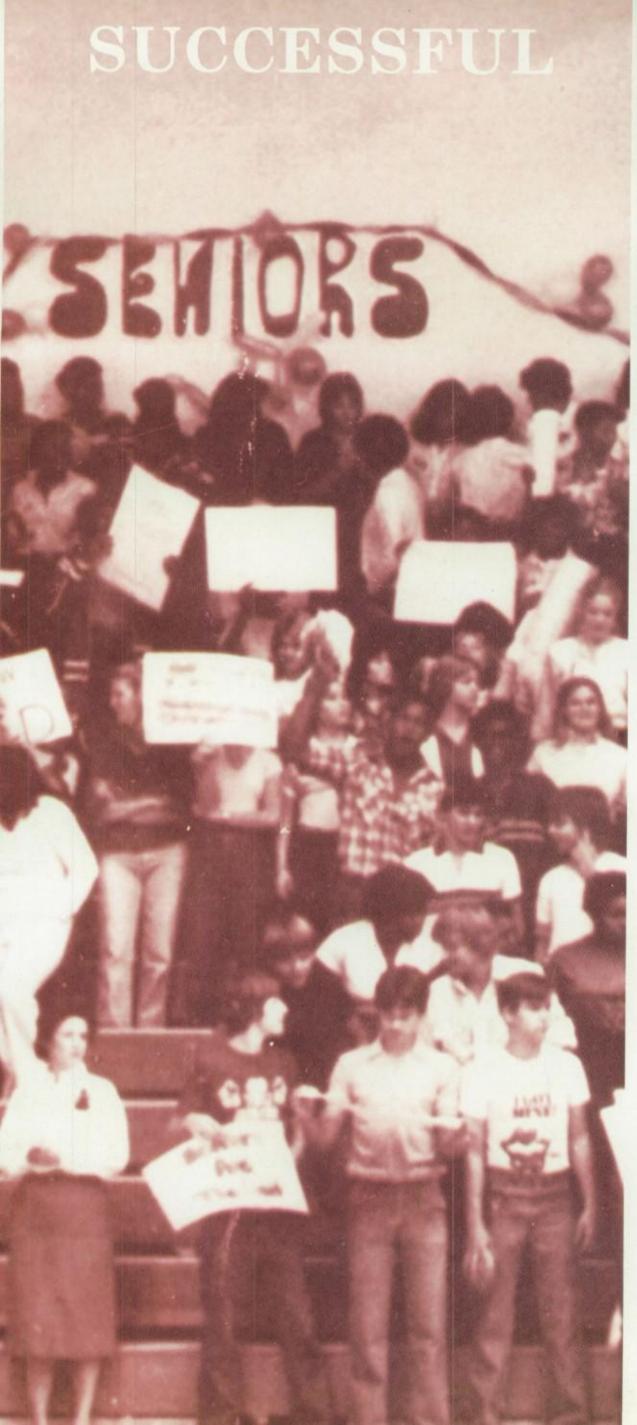

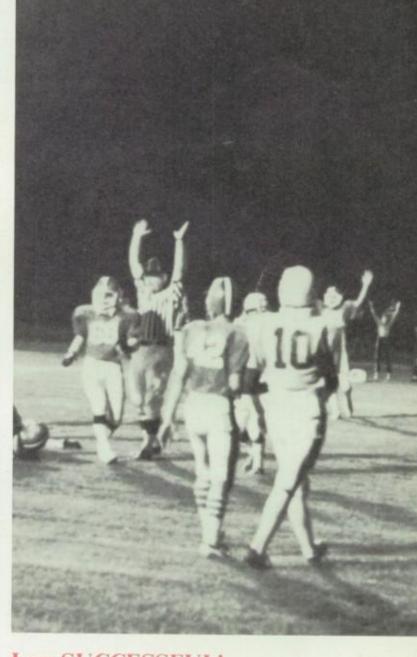

I am SUCCESSFUL!

Gaining knowledge and using this knowledge to complete jobs encountered,

Learning from experiences and endeavoring always to do my best,

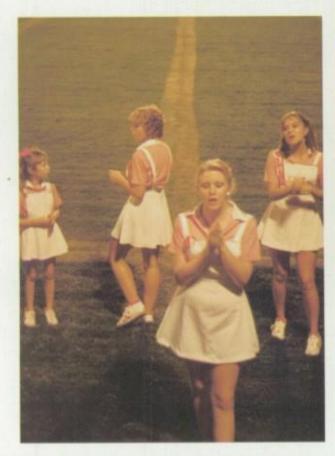

A pat on the back for a job well done, I am heading for prosperity.

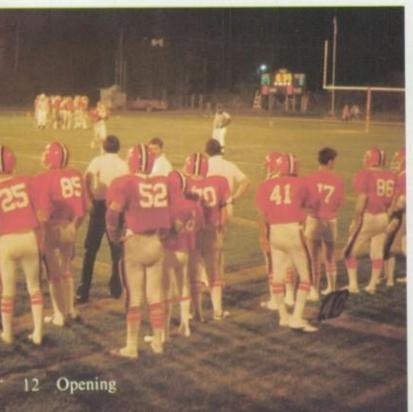

I am SPIRITED!

With enthusiasm, I encourage liveliness and loyalty,

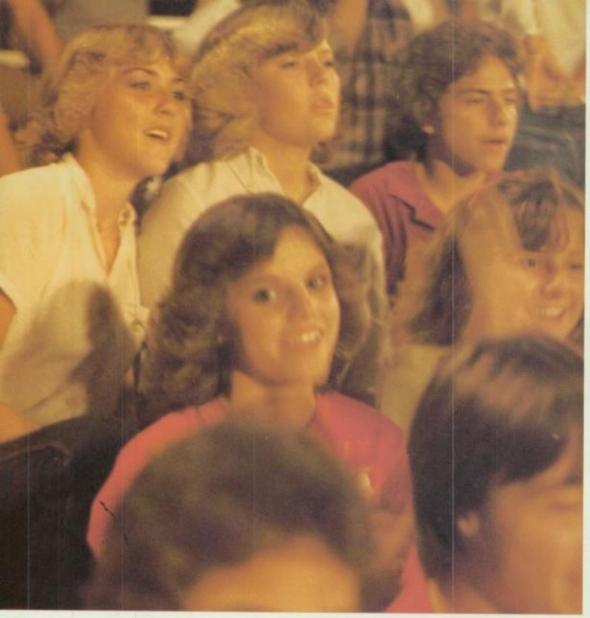

Arousing cheerfulness with the self-confidence of a strong individual,

Always taking opportunities to encourage others, I am influential.

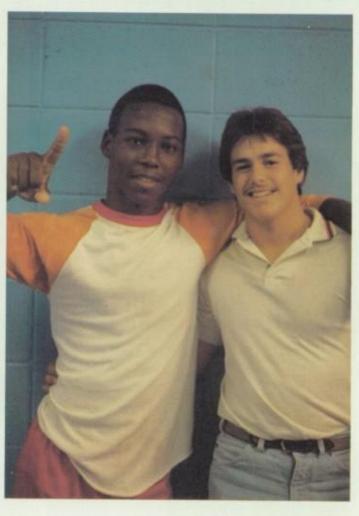

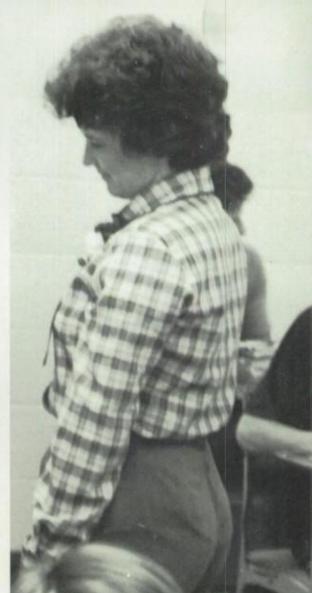

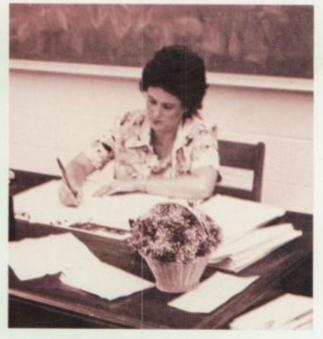

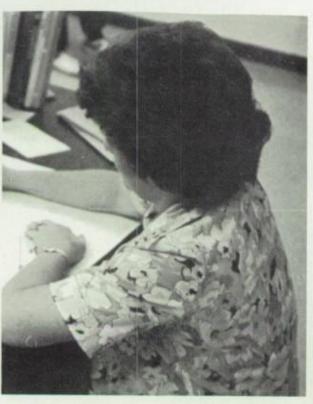

The 1982 Trojan staff dedicates this yearbook to Mrs. Suzette Little. We deeply appreciate the seven years of loyal service she has given to Lee County High School and to the student body. Through her teaching efforts, each student developes a better understanding of business and consumer math. As a token of our appreciation, we dedicate this yearbook to her, one of the dedicated.

COURAGE

I am COURAGEOUS!

Confronting every opponent with bravery and confidence, while giving it my all,

Meeting danger without fear, being a strong leader or a confident follower,

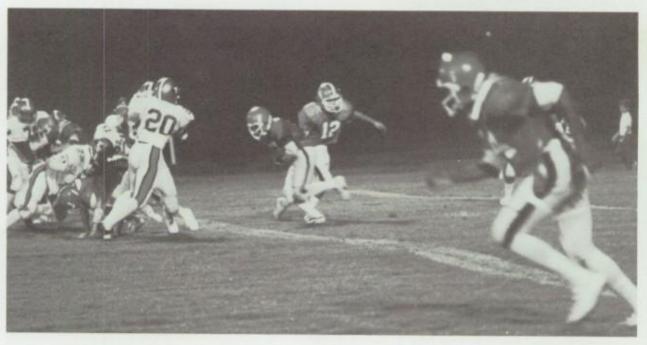

Gaining security and confidence as I overcome obstacles, I am fearless.

Varsity Displays Drive and Courage

This year's varsity football team deserved special recognition. They played as a well disciplined team with a lot of drive and determination. As Coach Lynch said, "This was the first team that I have had that felt like it could win every game that we went into." Under the outstanding leadership of senior players, our Trojans played a very exciting season of football.

rushing record with close to 1500 yards, was picked as "Back of the Week" twice for the Albany Herald, and was chosen as Most Valuable Player. Shane Parsons was chosen as "Lineman of the Week" once before. Even though these two players performed exceptionally well, all of the team did an outstanding job. The season record was 5-5 with 2-3 in the subregion.

Coaches Are a Vital Link.

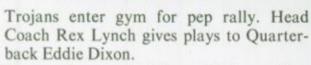

The coaches were a vital part of the Trojan football team. They provided the essential guidance and counsel to the football players. It was the duty of the coaches to build and form a solid foundation for the team and to organize and train the team to give it their all in order to win consistently. These fine coaches handled their responsibilities excellently. We were proud to say that they were part of the Trojan team and spirit.

Coach Hugh Watts

Hi, we nad a lot of fun this year through Homeroom, Baskels B-Team Finishes Ball, Olgbrea, ed. Most of all B-Team Finishes I am glad to have you as a freind because you will keep. With 9-5 Record me straight. I Love you always

This was the first year that Coach Graham was on the coaching staff. He led the Boys' B-Team to 9 wins and 5 losses. According to Coach Graham, this team was easy to work with and made coaching an enjoyable job. Lawrence Jimmerson and Will Woodard were the high scorers with averages of 15.7 and 13 points per game, respectively. All of these players made many improvements and prepared themselves for varsity ball.

Trojanettes Have Winning Year

According to Coach Bruner's account of the season as a whole, the girls accomplished the goals that they had set at the beginning of the basketball season. The season record for the girls' varsity before the subregion tournament was thirteen victories and nine defeats. This year these girls made a great achievement: They beat Turner County for the first time in many years.

Cheerleaders Provide

Spirit

Even though their job was a tough one, our cheerleaders showed a tremendous amount of spirit and enthusiasm. They helped keep spirits high when the odds were against us. They spent many long, hard hours planning pep rallies and spirit week in order to promote school spirit. Presence of the cheerleaders at the away games often provided the spark needed to carry the Trojans to victory. They stayed behind Lee County through thick and thin because they had the TROJAN SPIRIT.

Cheerleaders Purchase New

Uniforms.

The cheerleaders had many fund raising projects. They sold spirit ribbons, spirit pins and paper links for the spirit chain in each individual class. They also sponsored the Gong Show for the second year. With the funds raised, two new uniforms and jackets were purchased. Mrs. Wendy Martin, Mrs. Beth Harris, and Coach Debbie Bruner were the sponsors.

This was the first time in the history of Lee County High School that a girls' softball team was introduced into the Trojan sports program. Being new in the field of softball didn't stop the Trojanettes. With the performance of Dawn Kennedy and Katherine Brown as leading hitters, Dyan Chestnut as pitcher, and Ruby Byrd as top offensive player, this team defeated Calhoun County in the playoffs to become Region 1AA champs.

DETERMINATION

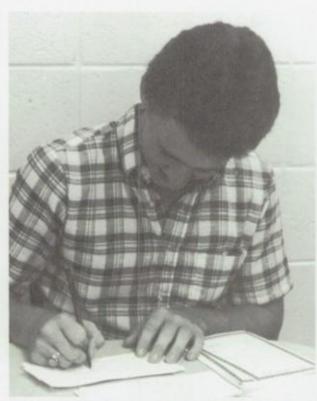

I am DETERMINED!

Building stamina and facing problems one by one, slowly I head onward,

Pushing myself to the limit in order to insure excellence in achievements,

Confident that I am right and having my mind firmly made up,
I aim for perfection.

LOOKS LIKE WE MADE IT!

Juniors Anticipate Their Senior Year

This year was an exciting one for the junior class. a lot of the juniors did things for the first time such as driving to school, preparing for their senior year, and thinking about what to do after high school. They ordered their class rings during the first part of the year. They made preparations for the Junior-Senior Prom and took the PSAT-NMSQT test. However, the anticipation of becoming a senior outshone all that happened during the year.

Sophomores Strive for Recognition

The sophomores lost some of their nervousness and began to seek recognition by participating in many extracurricular activities. The major goal they had in mind was building up their school budget to pay for the Junior-Senior prom next year. They worked toward accomplishing this goal by selling key chains, tag-a-longs, and laminated posters. They also sponsored the annual May Day festivities. During the year, they took Criterian Reference Tests. A major portion of the class took biology under Mr. Sanders and world history under Mr. Usry and Mrs. Russell.

Freshmen Overcome Fears

The freshman class was the biggest of all the high school classes this year. They tried to find some security in large numbers. Their first year in high school was spent getting used to the excitement of high school, making new friends, and learning to accept more responsibility. Apprehension and confusion were the first feelings they experienced, but through the help of classmates and teachers, they overcame these obstacles.

I am PATIENT!

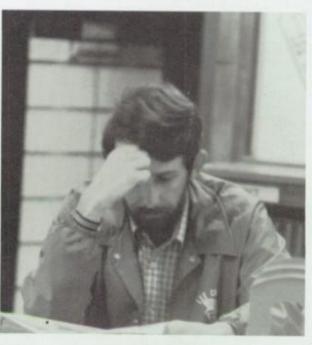

Enduring calmly with no complaints, assured that all will turn out,

Having the ability to do things without losing self-control,

Achieving self-satisfaction, with hard and steady work, I accomplish my goals.

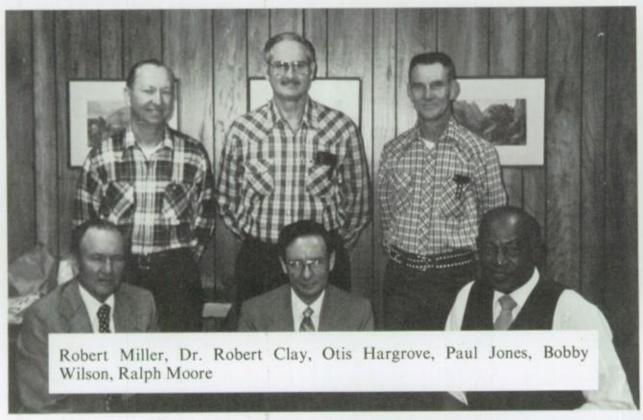

Administration

The function of our school depended on our administrative members. Our school ran smoothly because of our dedicated board of education members. They tried to develop new and more effective methods of running the school. Through their leadership, we had an outstanding school year.

Duane Ford

Front Office

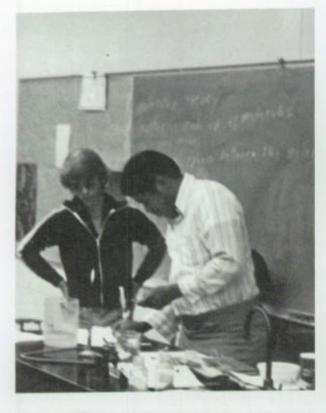

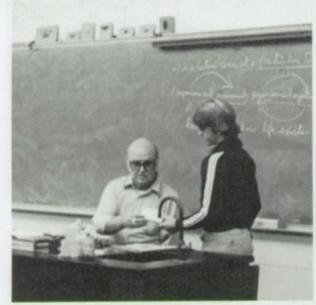

What would the school be like without the front office? How would the teachers find missing students? How would students check out? Who would inform everyone of what has taken place? There would be total chaos without the well-operated front office. Its purpose was to keep things running smoothly throughout the year. It accomplished this purpose very well.

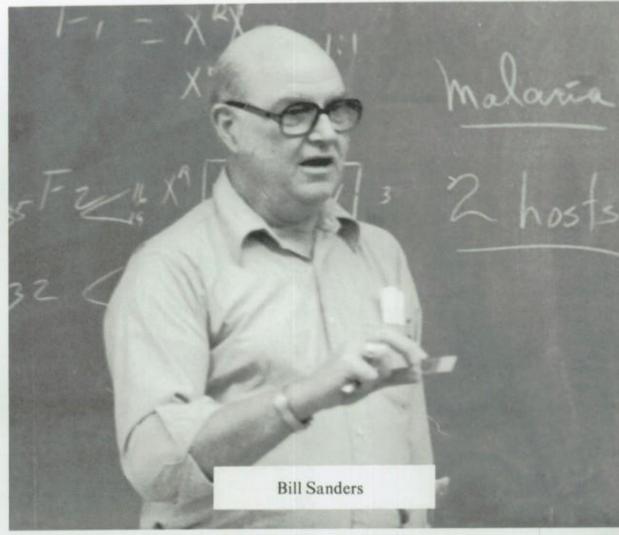

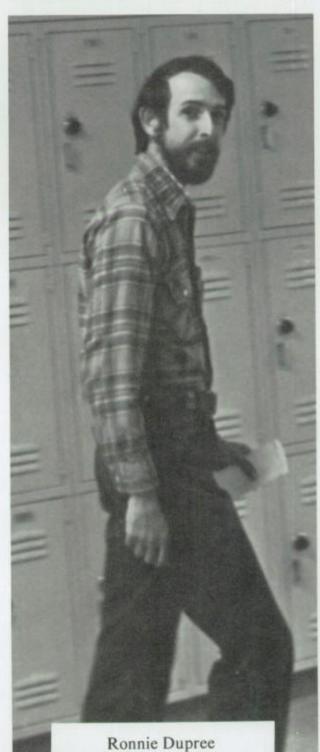

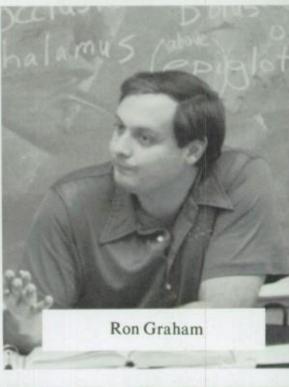

Some exciting incidents of the science department were breaking beakers, observing Drosophila Melanogaster cohabiting, finding the velocity of a curve ball, and understanding how the head bone is connected to the neckbone. This department taught students how to apply science to their everyday lives. It helped students to overcome many everyday problems.

Ronald Graham was a new addition to the science department. He taught classes on human physiology. He gave his students many mind-boggling questions for extra points.

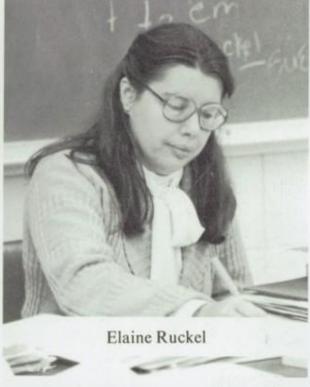

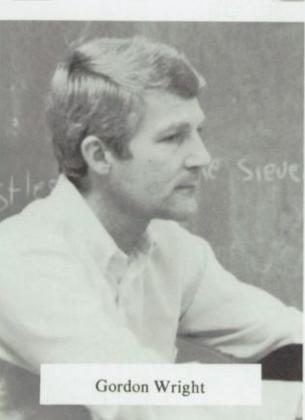

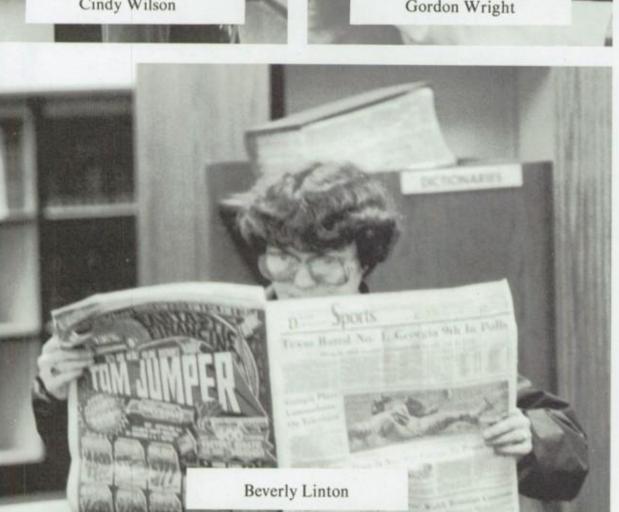

Joy Breeden

English Department

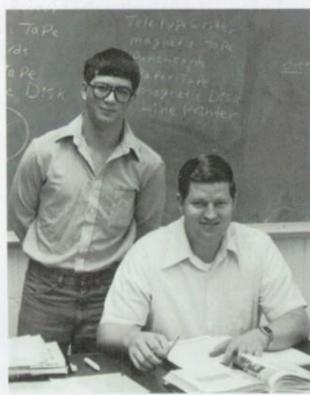

Grammar is a separate course was replaced with literature courses based on composition. Freshmen and sophomores were required to write eight paragraphs a quarter. Juniors and seniors were required to write four essays a quarter. Each individual teacher prepared her own field trips and guest speakers. Some usual events were trips to the Dawson library, trips to the Camilla printing press for the newspaper, and annual workshops. There were various guest speakers, according to the subject taught.

Math Department

The math department offered two new courses. One was honors math. It was a fifth year math class that covered topics which weren't normally taught in math courses. It helped prepare the students for college courses. The second new class was pre-algebra. Its goal was to encourage students to take more advanced math courses. It was needed because there was such a large ability range between general math courses and algebra. Through these new courses, the students were given a greater chance to improve on their math skills.

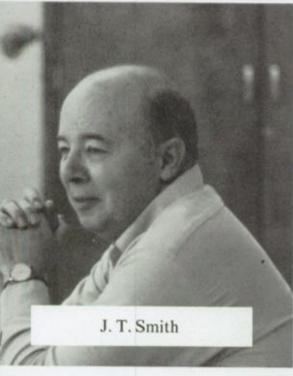

Debbie Russell

History Department

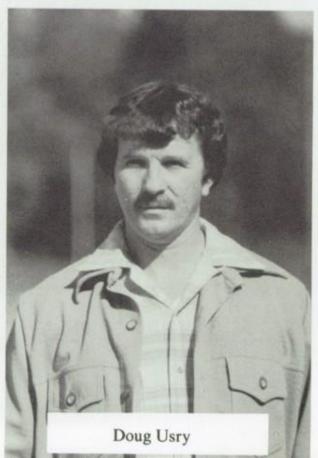

The history department placed a great deal of stress on citizenship and skill development. It placed a lot of emphasis on the constitutional rights. Through this, teachers hoped to increase the responsibility of students which would result in students becoming good citizens as well as adults.

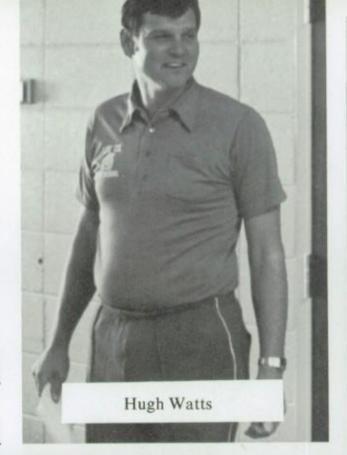

Civics was again required for all freshmen. The course was started to help freshmen on their competency test.

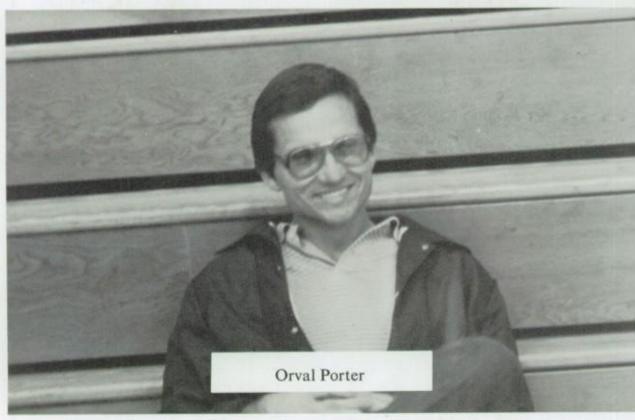

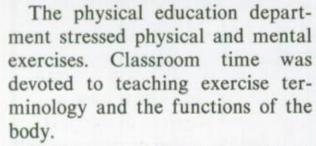

Physical Education

During the winter quarter, a physical fitness program was started for the girls and boys. It included aerobic exercises. New equipment was needed for the new class. Cassette tapes which played music were purchased to be played during aerobic exercises and other methods of exercising. They made the classes much more enjoyable.

Special Education

The special education program was for students who needed a specialized program of study. It included the gifted program as well as programs for students having difficulty in certain areas. It helped students both academically and vocationally.

Media and Fine Arts

The library provided equipment such as multimedia kits, overhead projectors, fiche readers, and the 3M copy machine for student use.

The art department offered new courses in design and composition, crafts, and printing. Their purpose was to encourage students to participate in art classes.

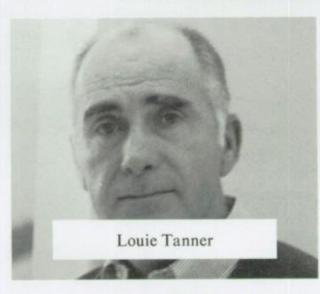

Graphic arts provided training for careers such as off-set operators, copy cameramen, platemakers, dark room technicians, etc.

The NJROTC introduced cadets to the Navy and its program for students in high school. It strived to engender a sound appreciation for the heritage and traditions of America in each cadet.

The band offered an auxiliary class to allow more time for flag and rifle corps to practice.

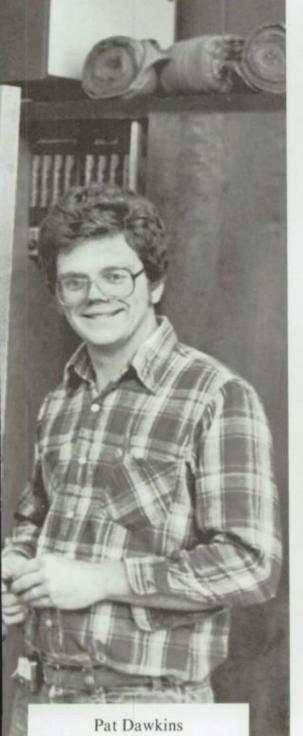

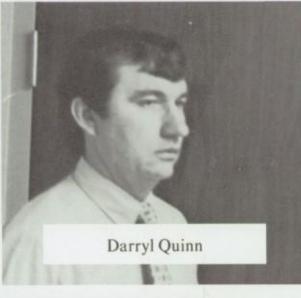

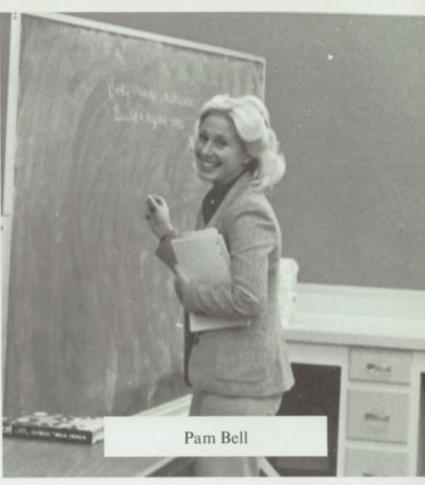

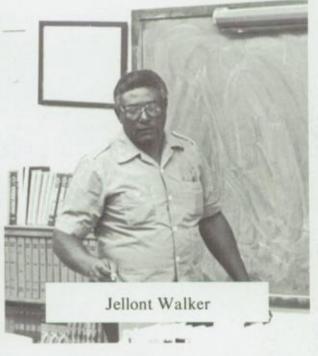

Vocational Department

The vocational department was started because of the great demand for employment in this area. Students learned new skills for employment through vocational course offerings, such as typing, shorthand, office practice, data processing, accounting, etc. Vocational education prepared students for employment in the outside world.

ENERGY

I am ENERGETIC!

Building up momentum and participating actively with vigor and force,

Doing strenuous deeds with a free spirit and never giving up,

Striving to do my best in all that I encounter, I am persistent.

Homecoming Boosts School Spirit

One of the highlights of homecoming was the dance after the game. The theme chosen for the dance was "Jungle Safari." Billy Hodges and Lori Devinney won the dance contest. For spirit week, the cheerleaders chose Monday as "Jungle Safari Day," Tuesday as "Punk Day," Wednesday as "Punk Day," Wednesday as "Western Day," Thursday as "tie 'em up and sock it to 'em day," and Friday as "Fifties Day." This gave the students and faculty an opportunity to build up school spirit and really show it.

Bobby socks, poodle skirts, and rolled up jeans were very popular on fifties day. Freshmen showed spirit at the fifties pep rally. Dy-anne Morris was fit to be tied on Thursday. Spirit leaders had lots of fun riding on the freshman float.

Football Reps and Spirit Leaders Chosen

During the homecoming festivities, each senior football player selected a special girl to represent him. These girls were presented at the pep rally and parade. During the week, the cheerleaders chose from each class students that showed the most school spirit. They were selected according to the amount of spirit shown at the pep rally and participation during spirit week.

Representatives

Elected to Court

Another highlight was the election of class representatives to the homecoming court. The freshman, sophomore, and junior classes voted to select one girl from their class to represent them.

totherine, order, I don't know where to legio. You have been such a wonderful friend to me.
20'll never be able to than you for everything you've done for me. I really appreciate you standing by me when no one also would. I miss us getting to talk like we used to and I hope that if we both make annual staff we'll have that chance to talk. I wish you the best of suck and many and Bless you!

Homecoming 119

Miss Paige Henry Crowned

Homecoming Princess

Miss Paige Henry was elected by the senior class to be crowned as Homecoming Princess. Miss Henry was escorted by her brother-in-law, Terry Warren. The senior class was both proud and honored to have Paige and Carole as Homecoming Princess and Queen of the 1981-82 school year.

Paige Henry — Homecoming Princess. Paige Henry escorted by Mr. Terry Warren. Donna Hudson escorted by Mr. Jack Hudson. Jan Bryant, escorted by Mr. David Freeman.

Epperson Elected Homecoming Queen

The highlight event of homecoming was the crowning of the queen and princess. Chosen by the senior class of 1982 was Miss Carole Epperson. Miss Epperson was escorted by her step-father, James Parker, at the ceremony.

"Prelude to Spring" Sets Pageant Tempo

The 1982 Miss LCHS pageant, "Prelude to Spring," was held on January 30 in the high school gym. The evening activities began with Carol Mahar performing a ballet to establish the theme. Masters of Ceremonies were Joyce Krolak and Shane Moncrief. Paige Turner was crowned queen. First runner-up was Laura Bevis; second runner-up, Rhyne Ellington; third runner-up, Donna Hudson; and fourth runner-up, Betsey Brown. Most talented went to Laura Bevis and Donna Hudson was chosen Miss Congeniality. NJROTC provided escorts.

Banquet Provides Relaxation

On Thursday night before the pageant, the judges interviewed contestants individually. After the interviews, the judges and contestants were honored with a banquet in the high school cafeteria. This provided a time for fellowship as well as clowning around to relieve the pressure of being in a pageant. The judges and auditors were presented gifts of appreciation, and the contestants voted for Miss Congeniality.

LCHS Shows Talent in Literary

Events

This year, Lee County sent many students to compete in Region 1AA literary competition. These students were chosen to represent LCHS because they were considered the most talented. Four areas in which we had contestants were girls' solo, girls' trio, girls' piano solo, and boys' quartet. These students put in many hours of hard practice to represent us well.

Girls' Solo — Betsey Brown, Alternate — Mara Crozier

Boys' Quartet — Hank Studdard, Randy Smith, Timmy Sanders, Tatum Leverett Piano Solo — Haley Studdard

Accompanists — Haley Studdard, Annza Palmer

Girls' Trio: Debbie Hall, Mary Johnson, Mara Crozier. Alternate — Betsey Brown

The seniors that were planning to attend college took the Scholastic Aptitude Test. The STAR Student was the person who scored highest on this test. Brian Krolak earned this honor. The teacher that the STAR Student felt had contributed most to his education was chosen as STAR teacher. Mr. Ronald Dupree was selected by Brian.

Other literary events that Lee County participated in were oral interpretation, home economics, and extemporaneous speaking. In home ec, the contestants presented a project dealing with the subject of "Food and Nutrition." In oral interpretation, participants had to read something from a manuscript and communicate the author's meaning to the audience. In extemporaneous speaking, the contestants had to be able to speak clearly and fluently.

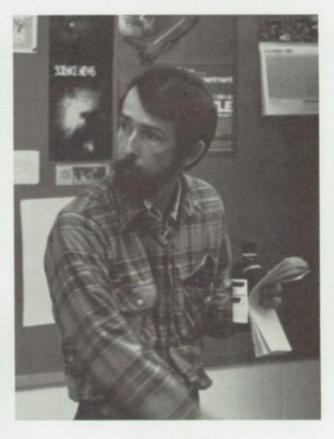

In debate, Bob Reeves and James Sizemore represented Georgia in the Bicentennial Debate Tournament in Williamsburg, Virginia.

Band Gets Excellent Rating

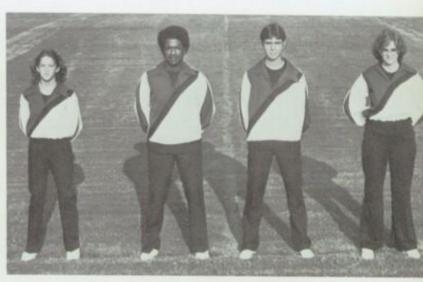

With Mr. John Goodrum as the sponsor and director, the band became a vital part of the student body. They provided music at pep rallies and games that built and uplifted the spirits of both the fans and players. The band practiced many long, hard hours that enabled them to play their best anywhere they went. LCHS band members were essential to this school because of their loyal support to the student body.
